WILL TRY TO FORCE HIGHER WAGE SCALE

Amalgamated Assoc. of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers in Annual Meeting.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Youngstown, O., May 5.—The Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, one of the strongest labor bodies in America, began in this city today, with headquarters at the Todd house. A large number of the delegates had not arrived when the meeting convened at 10 o'clock this morning, but it is probable that several hundred will be in attendance when the real business begins tomorrow. The convention immediately went into executive session. The general sentiment which prevails among the delegates is that this convention will be one of the most important in the history of the organization. It is said that the sweeping reduction in wages made by some of the Eastern manufacturers will come up for discussion, and plans will be adopted to force a higher rate of wages. The annual election of officers will be held.

Rogers and James Stillman, who filed their answer to Salt Lake yesterday in the Union Pacific merger suit today, said: "The statement that either of my clients claimed damages by reason of the government's allegations in the merger suit is utterly ridiculous. Some stupid reporter must have mistaken the prayer for dismissal with costs as a claim for damages."

The conference this year promises to be unusually well attended. Nearly 1,500 visitors are expected to be present, and the people of Richmond have completed elaborate plans for their reception and entertainment. The conference will remain in session an entire week.

WANT FORT TO BE VICE PRESIDENT

New Jersey Republicans Will Also Support the Secretary of War.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Trenton, N. J., May 5.—Though New Jersey republicans would like to see Governor Fort selected as the running mate of Taft on the Presidential ticket and in all probability will support the candidacy of the Secretary of War it is not by any means certain that the delegates from this state to the Chicago convention will be pledged to Taft. The anti-Taft element is believed to be strong enough, if it chooses to assert itself, to prevent Taft instructions.
The state convention assembled here today to select the four delegates-at-large and ratify the selection of the Congressional delegates. The interest of the convention centers in the making up of the "big four." Governor Fort is a candidate for delegate-at-large, and former Attorney General John W. Griggs is another who probably will be chosen. Both are Taft supporters. The other two who are most prominently mentioned are ex-Governor Franklin Murphy, State Chairman, and United States Senator John Keam. These two are generally supposed to favor Fairbanks, Knox or any other candidate in preference to Taft. Either David Baird or United States Senator Frank O. Briggs may be substituted for one of those named. Senator Briggs is understood to favor an unpledged delegation.

BITTER FIGHT ON BETWEEN FACTIONS

National Issues Ignored in Contest for Control of the State.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
San Francisco, Cal., May 5.—Republican primaries are being held today in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Oakland, Fresno, Pasadena, Vallejo and all the other large cities of California for the selection of delegates to the state convention which will meet at Sacramento next week to choose delegates to the national convention at Chicago. The primary is the culmination of a bitter political struggle. The choice of a presidential candidate has been almost totally ignored in the intensity and bitterness of the fight between the two factions of the republican party for control of the state. On one side is the "regular" wing, otherwise known as the state machine, the overthrow of which is sought by the opposition which has rallied under the name of the Lincoln-Roosevelt republican league, with branches organized throughout the state, who are fighting for control under the slogan of "honest politics" and "good government."

DELEGATES WILL BE FRIENDLY TO TAFT

Connecticut Will Probably Send Unpledged Delegation to Chicago.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Hartford, Conn., May 5.—The men who constitute the fighting strength of the republican party in Connecticut are in this city today in readiness for the state convention, which will choose fourteen delegates to the national convention at Chicago. The convention will hold its opening session in the Auditorium tonight. After completing its organization an adjournment will be taken until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning when it will reassemble to dispose of the real business at hand. Connecticut will undoubtedly send an unpledged and uncommitted delegation to Chicago and not all of the members of it will be Taft men. Two-thirds of them will be, however, according to present indications, and those who are not solidly for Taft will not be sufficiently opposed to his nomination to be considered unfriendly.

BIG RACING EVENT TAKES PLACE TODAY

Paris Mutuel Betting Machines Will Be Used in the Betting Ring.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Louisville, Ky., May 5.—The greatest racing event on the eastern turf takes place this afternoon at Churchill Downs, when the annual renewal of the Kentucky Derby, worth $5,000 to the winner, is decided. The event marks the opening of the spring meeting of the new Louisville Jockey Club. The running will close May 30 with the running of the Kentucky Oaks. The Paris mutuel machines are to be given a thorough test at the present meeting, it being the first trial they have had on American race tracks since the reform was begun to sweep over the country. Eleven machines have been set up in the old betting ring. They will be used for registering bets, two for place and two for those who desire to take the extreme position on the betting line. No wager of less than $5 can be made. The result of the test is awaited with interest by turfmen all over the country.

SAN FRANCISCO IS READY TO WELCOME EVANS' FLEET

Battleships Will Cast Anchor In San Francisco Bay Tomorrow Afternoon.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
San Francisco, Cal., May 5.—The history-making journey of the Atlantic battleship fleet, which had its beginning at Hampton Roads last December, will come to an end at floodtide tomorrow, when the imposing sea fighters will enter the Golden Gate and come to anchor in San Francisco Bay. The people of San Francisco and of the cities and towns for miles around are on the tip-toe of expectation today. If the visit of the fleet does not prove to be the biggest celebration in the history of California it will not be the fault of the people.
For nearly five months preparations have been in progress for entertaining the officers and men of the visiting warships. Not San Francisco alone, but Oakland, San Jose, Berkeley and neighboring cities have joined in the arrangements for the festivities.
San Francisco has donned gala attire in honor of the visitors. The streets are gay with fluttering flags and bunting and festooned with lights that will flash their individual welcomes each evening. The main scheme of the celebrations is blue and white bunting in festoons and golden eagles interspersed. One of the most popular forms of decoration appears to be Admiral Evans' portrait draped in bunting and exposed in windows. Next in popular esteem after pictures of Evans and the national colors come pictures of the Connecticut and of other of the leading battleships of the fleet.
The retail district and the fashionable residential section do not monopolize the decorations. In every part of the city, in quarters where neither of the officers nor sailors of the fleet are likely to go, shops and houses have been decked out in honor of the occasion. In the most out-of-the-way corners flags have been rigged out and portraits of "Fighting Bob" exhibited. Many of the pictures are of a character to make the Admiral wish he had never rounded the Horn.
The saloons lead in the assurance that the sailors are welcome. Over the entrance to one saloon is this invitation: "Free dinners and drinks to members of the Connecticut crew." It is not to be inferred from this, however, that the jockies of the other fifteen battleships are to lack entertainment or good cheer.
Everybody believes that the celebration will draw a bigger crowd to San Francisco than ever gathered here before. Of course, every hotel has been flooded with applications for rooms. Many of the hotels have arranged with boarding-houses and furnished room houses to send the expected overflow to these places. The advance guard of visitors is already putting in an appearance, but the big rush is not expected until Friday, on which day the grand naval review is to take place. It is said that not a single reputable hotel in town has advanced its rates in anticipation of the big crowd.
Rear Admiral Thomas, who has been senior officer ever since the fleet entered American waters, transferred his flag to the Minnesota this morning. Before the fleet leaves Santa Cruz this evening Admiral Evans is expected to go aboard the flagship Connecticut and resume the command of the fleet.
The vessels will make their appearance at the entrance to the Golden Gate some time before noon tomorrow. The Atlantic fleet will sail through the Golden Gate alone, but the ships of the Pacific fleet, the armored cruisers of the West Virginia class, will join them at Angel Island, just within the harbor or entrance, and the combined force of forty-six battleships, cruisers, torpedo boat destroyers and auxiliaries will parade through the bay to the reviewing anchorage. The ships will anchor in four long columns, heading toward Goat Island and extending south in the bay from a point off Market street and the ferry terminal building, past Mission Rock and on to Potrero Point.
It is calculated that the battleship Connecticut will pass Point Bonita entering the Golden Gate exactly at noon. The vessel of the combined fleet is not expected to reach its anchorage position until near four o'clock so for four long hours the great display in San Francisco Bay will be in progress. During the maneuvers all ferry traffic will be practically suspended and the waters given over to the big white ships and the excursion craft accompanying them.
The actual welcome will not begin until Thursday, although state and city officials and representatives of the local entertainment committee will board the Connecticut immediately after her arrival and extend to Rear Admiral Evans and his officers a formal welcome. On Thursday the sailors and marines of the fleet will take part in a parade with 3,000 Federal troops under Brigadier General Funston and a number of civic societies. The climax of the celebration will take place Friday when Secretary of the Navy McCallum will review the fleet. These strictly official functions completed, there will be a series of entertainments for the officers and men.

CIRCUS ARRIVES DELIGHTING BOYS

CAME IN FROM FT. ATKINSON
EARLY THIS MORNING.

IS A WISCONSIN PRODUCT

Entire Equipment Fresh With New Paint Decorations—Many Watched Unloading.

Everyone, young or old, enjoys a circus. There is something in the smell of the sawdust, the tune of the band, the cry of the peanut and lemon vendors that is entrancing. To the small boy it ranks on a par with Christmas and Fourth of July and is better than having the measles and staying out of school. Despite the cloudy dripping atmosphere early this morning there was a goodly delegation of boys and some of them big boys to, at the Northwestern depot when the Gollmar Bros. circus pulled into town from Ft. Atkinson. It came in two sections and its arrival was the signal for a scurrying to points of vantage to watch every item of the unloading.

Unloading a circus such as the Gollmar Bros. is a marvel of perfect mechanism and discipline. It is a lesson to those who have never before witnessed it. Each wagon, cage and chariot has its own place on the long train and each is run off and sent to the show grounds in its proper order. The wagons needed are unloaded first and those not required until later, being sent off last.

Thus the wagons containing the kitchen and dining room accessories were unloaded, and sent to the "lot" first, then came the pole wagon, canvas wagons, seat trunk and property wagons in the order named. Last of all came the cages containing the rare wild animals and the wagons used in the circus street parade. When the cook wagons arrived on the lot (accompanied by an army of small boys), the dining tent was quickly erected and preparations made to feed the army of workmen and performers (some 500 in all) carried by the show.

Grand Street Parade. After breakfast everyone seemed to be busy preparing for the street parade which left the show grounds promptly at 10:30 and traversed the principal streets.

The Gollmar Bros. parade is worthy of special mention, as it is really first class in every particular. The cages and large tableaux wagons were all bright and new looking.

The animals had a sleek, well-fed appearance and the horses, from the high stepping pedigree to the heavy limbed Norman draft animals, were such as to delight the eye and tickle the heart of every lover of good horse flesh.

Fine Afternoon Performance.

The doors opened promptly at one o'clock and the performance began at two, allowing one hour for an inspection of the menagerie. When Gollmar Bros. band played the first note of the grand entrance, there were few vacant seats in the vast canvas. The performance went with a snap and vim that is commendable; there was not a dull moment. The aerial net of the Nelsons was an exhibition of skill and during hard to equal. The principal riding act was presented by Mr. Chas. Rooney, who is termed the undisputed champion of them all, but he deserves this title was fully proven by the thunderous applause which greeted his every act.

Then, there were the clowns, some of the funniest men, who over stepped the saw dust ring or jumped sideways at the crack of the ringmaster's whip.

The show company's physician is in attendance at all times. Any person in the audience who may be accident, or otherwise, need his attention, receives the same free of charge.

They give another performance tonight. Doors open at 7 o'clock; performance begins at 8 o'clock.

Because night operator Louis Hannon at Afton, went to sleep Sunday night a message to him, to hold the south bound freight train until the north bound train arrived, could not be delivered. AMUSEMENTS.

One of the quaintest and cleverest comedy-dramas that has been put forth in recent years is the Anglo-Swedish dialect play "Tilly Olson," which will be given here at the Myers theatre tonight. This is not a drama of heroes for a male star, but is a bright and amusing comedy in which the principal role is a young Swedish girl, sufficiently Americanized to make her interesting to players of all classes. While the story has some melodramatic touches here and there, yet in the main it is bright and witty and has an abundance of laughable episodes and humorous situations. The play itself has evolved an entertaining and quaint character in Tilly, and her impetuousness under trying circumstances, and her consistent portrayal of a shy and unsophisticated country girl is cleverly sketched by the author. The company will be a large one, and the scenic production will be adequate in every respect. Miss Emily Erickson Greeno will assume the role of Tilly, and the talented boy actor, Master George Falkner, will have a prominent role.

The Life Earnest. High hearts are never long without hearing some new call, some distant clarion of God, even in their dreams; and soon they are observed to break up the camp of ease and start on some fresh march of faithful service. And, looking higher still, we find those who never wait till their moral work accumulates, and who reward resolution with no rest; with whom, therefore, the alternation is instantaneous and constant; who do the good only to see the better, and see the better only to achieve it; who are too meek for transport, too faithful for remorse, too earnest for repose; whose worship is action, and whose action ceaseless aspiration.—J. Martineau.

Unchanging Laws of Etiquette. It is astonishing to see how little the standard of good manners seems to have changed since the middle ages.

The strenuous life and the higher education have not altered our conception of the laws of good breeding, even if they leave us little time for the carrying out of them, and the rules of conduct upon which we have all been brought up are in many respects the same to-day as those propounded in the manuals of etiquette of hundreds of years ago.—Ladies Field.

REPRESENTATIVE LONGWORTH ON LEFT, REPRESENTATIVE MANN ON THE RIGHT.

Washington.—Sen. Longworth only not be able to keep up such an establishment as that of the present American ambassador, but would not be able to keep up any establishment at all.

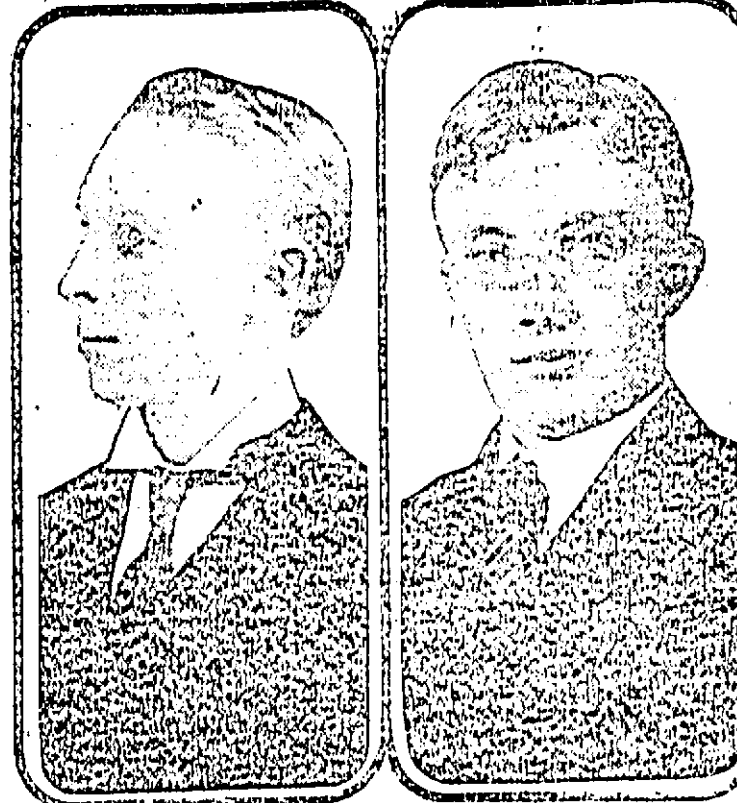

Mr. Longworth said, without going into the question as to whether Mr. Tower had maintained too luxurious an establishment, that everybody would concede that the American ambassador to Germany should at least have a home to live in, and not be compelled to live in a hotel or a flat.

"It is no excuse," he said, "that we do not act because financial conditions do not warrant the expense. All office holding aristocracy he had enough in any country, when based on birth and blood, but when based on wealth it is infinitely worse, and worse than all in a republic. I would say that any amount of money was well spent for uprooting such a system from this country."

Representative Mann defended the less extravagant embassies on the ground that the United States does not well off to pay the difference between the amount paid him as salary and the amount necessary to maintain his position as an ambassador, he would not be in a favor of political embassies abroad. In his recent speech before the house, he said:

"I am much troubled of objection to Dr. Hill as ambassador to Berlin was simply and solely that his private fortune would not enable him to represent properly the dignity of the American nation."

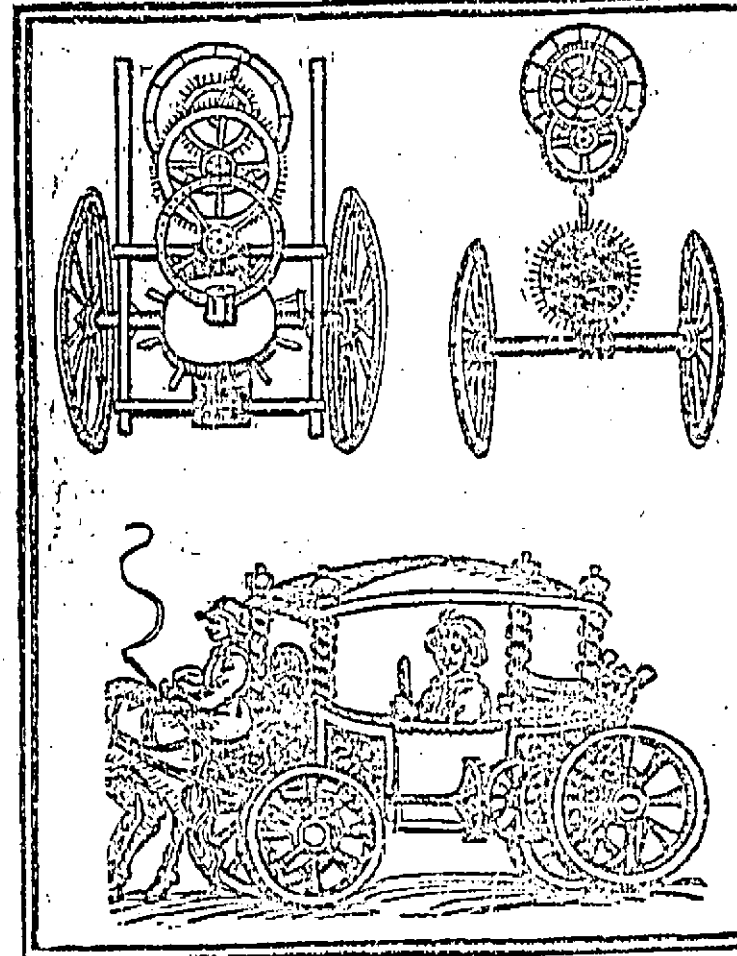

"These objections, however, he declared, could not be because Dr. Hill was not experienced in diplomacy, nor sufficiently learned in international law, nor that he was not sufficiently well off to pay the difference between the amount paid him as salary and the amount necessary to maintain his position."

READING FROM LEFT TO RIGHT, ARTHUR MILPAUGH JOEL MOORE

Ablon, Mich.—The first Johnson club to be formed among the colleges or universities has just been launched here. Arthur Milpaugh, editor of the college paper, and Joel Moore, senior orator, are at the head of the new movement. The organization has for its object the honoring of John A. Johnson of Minnesota for president of the United States.

Many college political organizations have endorsed Taft or Bryan, but it is left for the enterprising Ablon students to take the popular Minnesota candidate.

FORERUNNER OF THE TAXICAB.

Paris.—There's nothing new under the sun! Even the taxicab is an adaptation of an apparatus designed by a Roman architect who lived in the time of Augustus, Marcus Vitravius Pallio by name. This statement is based on a communication forwarded to L'illustration by a young student, in which he tells of a curious find he made while rummaging among a lot of old books in a Paris shop.

In a heap of battered volumes he came across a book published in 1678, in which one Alexander Capra, a citizen of Cremona, set forth some accounts of architectural and mechanical things in which he was interested. In this book are three wood engravings showing how the author had taken up with Vitravius' distance-measure and improved upon it. In the description of his apparatus Capra generously gave credit to the old Roman for the original invention, simply claiming for himself the credit of making Vitravius' measure a really practical thing.

It does not appear that there were taxicabs in Cremona until according to Capra's specifications, but one of the cuts in his book shows his apparatus attached to a coach. Whether Capra actually owned a coach equipped with a distance-measure is not stated.

THE OLDEST SURVIVOR OF THE CIVIL WAR.

Liberal, Mo.—Henry Dorman recently celebrated his 100th birthday and is the oldest survivor of the civil war. He has resided in Missouri for the past thirty years and is well known in G. A. R. circles throughout the state. He is a native of New York state, but enlisted in the Union army from Michigan in 1863, when he was 61 years old and at an age when most men are incapacitated for the duties of a soldier in the field. He took part in many battles and was wounded in the battle of Gettysburg. Mr. Dorman survives his ten sons and has lived in three centuries. He has been a member of the Baptist church for 50 years and a republican since the formation of the party. He has never used liquor, but for 80 years he chewed tobacco, a habit he gave up in 1894. He ascribes his longevity entirely to the goodness of God.

Wisdom of Nature. Human labor, through all its forms, from the sharpening of a stake to the building of a city or an empire, is one immense illustration of the perfect compensation of give and take. The absolute balance of give and take, the doctrine that everything has its price, is not less sublime in the columns of a ledger than in the budgets of states.—Emerson.

Queer Idea of Happiness. It is the misfortune of the bachelor that he has no one to tell him frankly his faults; but the husband has this happiness.—Jean Paul Richter.

Sin Against Light. It is a crime to be a hypocrite. That in the sin against light—the worst of all.—John Oliver Hobbs.

Tribute to Good Nature. Good nature is worth more than knowledge, more than money, to the persons who possess it, and certainly to everybody who dwells with them. In so far as more happiness is concerned.—Henry Ward Beecher.

Substitute for Bucket. When it is necessary to carry water and a bucket is not available, take a basket and cover its interior with a piece of cheap table cloth. Not a drop of water will be wasted.

Setting the Time. "Yea," said the Billville citizen, "I vowed I'd be married last fodder-pullin' time, but another feller got the gal. Then I set hog-killa' time for the ceremony, but the gal thought better of it; but now I've full made up my mind for the next cotton-ghin' season, but I'm free to say that cotton's mighty low, and the only change in the country is the change in the minds of the wimmen folks!"—Atlanta Constitution.

ATLANTIC FLEET UNITED ONCE MORE

TWO SQUADRONS AND TORPEDO BOATS ALL TOGETHER.

ASSEMBLE AT SANTA CRUZ

Little Vessels Have a Stormy Trip—Flagship Connecticut Goes to Monterey for Admiral Evans.

Santa Cruz, Cal., May 5.—The Atlantic battleship fleet was united once more Monday when the ships of the second squadron arrived from Monterey and the flotilla of six destroyers joined it from San Pedro, the latter after one of the stormiest voyages of the cruise.

The second squadron headed by the Alabama, flying the flag of Rear Admiral Sperry, came across Monterey bay, leaving at 5:30 in the afternoon. The flotilla came in at 1:30. Admiral Thomas at night moved from the Connecticut to the Minnesota, although his flag of senior rear admiral still flies at the main truck of the former.

The Connecticut proceeded to Monterey at 6:30 in the morning to take on board Admiral Evans, who returns to resume active command of the fleet. The flagship will return at once to Santa Cruz.

No ceremonies whatever will attend the return of Rear Admiral Evans. When the Connecticut left port the blue flag of Admiral Thomas was run down from the main mast, and he hoisted his red pennant on the Minnesota. As soon as Admiral Evans is aboard the Connecticut at Monterey he will hoist his flag as commander-in-chief.

Hard Trip for Little Boats. The torpedo flotilla fought every inch of the way from San Pedro against a strong head wind that caused big waves to break over the bows and wash the decks from stem to stern. The screens of the bridges and every loose article about the decks was washed away. Nearly every man on board was soaked during the trip. No serious damage of any kind resulted, however.

The flotilla came into the bay in single column and steaming at full speed. As the boats passed between the Connecticut and Kansas on the way into the shore the steam whistles on the beach began to screech out a welcome to the little craft. They proceeded well to toward the beach and anchored 1,000 yards from the first squadron. Hundreds of people lined the beach and cheered the crews of the flotilla.

Hospital Ship Arrives. The hospital ship Relief also came into the bay shortly after noon. She took on board a number of sick from the different ships of the fleet. Admiral Thomas has ordered that she go to San Francisco in advance of the fleet and put the patients ashore, returning to join the fleet outside the bay the morning of May 6.

The Yukon and the Glacier, the only auxiliaries remaining with the fleet, will accompany it to San Francisco. The Culgoon, Panther and Arcton, now at San Francisco, are also ordered to join the fleet outside of the Golden Gate.

The Nebraska and Wisconsin will join the Atlantic fleet at the lightship on the night of May 5. The former will take her position at the rear of the first squadron and the Wisconsin at the rear of the second squadron in line as it steams into San Francisco bay. The Pacific fleet will join at Angel Island, as ordered by Secretary Mott.

Thomas in Command May 9. Admiral Thomas will succeed Admiral Evans as commander-in-chief on May 9. On that date Admiral Evans will hand down his pennant with a salute of 13 guns from the ships. Admiral Thomas will receive honors when his colors are broken out.

Admiral Thomas stated Monday that he will reside ashore during his incumbency as commander-in-chief. He will have his quarters at the Fairmont hotel with his family, maintaining official headquarters on the Connecticut, where he will go each day to attend his duties. He will be succeeded by Admiral Sperry in command of the fleet on May 15.

Several hundred school children from Santa Cruz visited the ships Monday on special invitation of Admiral Evans. About 200 members of the G. A. R. from this and surrounding counties also paid a visit to the ships.

BROWNSVILLE CASE ARGUED

PRESIDENT'S RIGHT TO OUST SOLDIERS ATTACKED.

Remarkable Theory Advanced by Counsel for One of the Dismissed Negro Troopers.

New York, May 5.—For more than three hours Monday night Judge Hough, in the United States district court, listened to arguments which involved a question of the right of President Roosevelt to summarily dismiss the three companies of negro soldiers of the Twenty-fifth Infantry for alleged participation in the Brownsville riot.

The argument was on a demurrer interposed to a portion of the answer to the government in the action commenced by Private Oscar W. Bold to recover $122, which was represented as a soldier from the date of his dismissal without honor and the date of the expiration of his enlistment. The suit was commenced in the federal court in this district.

To the complaint filed in behalf of Private Bold, United States District Attorney Stimson entered a general denial and for additional defense, alleged the right of the president to dismiss the soldiers of these companies and also referred to the reports of the various army inspectors, recommending such action, making the reports a portion of the record of the case. It was to this portion in the government's answer, that Chase Mellen, counsel for Private Bold, demurred. He contended that the enlisted men were protected by constitutional rights which the president had not the power to ignore, even as commander-in-chief of the army and navy, from a legal viewpoint, as a civil contract between the soldier and the government. The real power of removal, the attorney contended, was vested in congress, which created the army and navy, the president as commander-in-chief possessing in times of peace only the application of the congressional act.

Mr. Stimson in reply characterized the legal propositions of Lawyer Mellen as most startling, and insisted the power had been vested in the nation's chief executive to dismiss commissioned officers of the army and navy since the government began, and he could not see how the enlisted man should therefore be surrounded by such constitutional safeguards that even the commander-in-chief could not get by them if he deemed it proper for the betterment and morale of the service.

Judge Hough reserved decision, but told Lawyer Mellen plainly from the bench that it would require considerable legal proof to convince him that the relations of the enlisted soldier and government amounted simply to a civil contract.

HELD FOR HIS WIFE'S DEATH.

Wealthy Retired Farmer of Peoria County, Ill., Suspected.

Peoria, Ill., May 5.—Frank J. Potter, a wealthy retired farmer of Peoria county, is under arrest, pending the report of a coroner's jury into the death of Lydia Potter, his wife. The warrant was sworn out Sunday when the woman died and was obtained by Bruce Holmes, a brother of the woman.

At the inquest, which was begun Monday, it was brought out that the woman died of peritonitis caused by internal injuries. The post-mortem showed that there were several bruises on the body of the deceased. A neighbor, Mrs. Adelman, testified that the night in question the woman came to Adelman's house in her nightclothes with blood flowing from her mouth, and she showed bruises on her head, breast and hip. The inquest was continued pending the arrival of two daughters of the Potters. Mrs. Potter is a daughter of John Holmes, the wealthiest land owner in the county at the time of his death, two months ago.

Damage to crops and orchards is reported from Greene, Lawrence, Christian, Wright and Webster counties.

Paris, Tex., May 5.—A tornado 20 feet wide struck the village of Ambia early Monday and destroyed three houses, two barns and a smokehouse. A blacksmith named Ben Nodder was injured.

Decatur Now Dry as a Bone.

ELEVEN VICTIMS IN FORT WAYNE

TWO OTHERS MISSING IN THE AVELINE HOTEL FIRE.

RAIN STOPS SEARCHERS

National Guardsmen Protect the Ruins, in Which There is Much Money and Jewelry.

Fort Wayne, Ind., May 5.—At six o'clock Monday evening rain stopped the work on the Aveline hotel ruins. The firemen and other workmen who had been constantly digging for bodies since Sunday morning were exhausted. The mayor, chief of police and chief of the fire department had had no sleep.

Up to night no bodies had been found since four o'clock Monday morning, when a charred trunk was taken out. In the afternoon Dr. Hoffman, a dentist of Auburn, identified the body as that of Frank G. Baxter, an attorney of that place. Identification was made possible by the teeth, which Dr. Hoffman had repaired only two weeks ago.

All the bodies but two were claimed by friends and most of them were taken away during the afternoon and evening. The injured in the hospitals are all doing well except E. M. Matthews of Columbus, O., who it is thought cannot survive long.

Eleven Known to Be Dead. The body taken out Monday morning makes 11 known victims. One unidentified body is now thought to be that of R. E. Tribble, a land agent of Dalhart, Tex. It was at first thought it was Charles Benjamin, a Jewish salesman of Detroit, Mich., but Dr. Rosenbuhl examined the remains and said the body was not that of Benjamin.

The only persons known to be missing are Mr. Benjamin and Herman Seligman, the latter of New York. Seligman had wired his firm that he would be either in Fort Wayne or Logansport Saturday and Sunday, and telegrams from Logansport state that he was not there. He always stopped at the Aveline when in Fort Wayne and is thought to have perished.

Militia Guard the Ruins. At the ruins the militiamen are on guard keeping people away from the walls and preventing possible looting, as there is money and jewelry in the debris and a large pile of unclaimed trunks is in front of the burned building.

It is practically established that the fire started in the boiler room in the basement. The timbers leading from the engine room, which were uncovered by the firemen, show the pathway of the flames to the elevator shaft.

Porto Rico Pirates Caught.

San Juan, Porto Rico, May 5.—After a prolonged pursuit along the west coast of Porto Rico, the revenue cutter Albatross has succeeded in capturing a sloop that was stolen some time ago from a west coast port. The cutter had to fire three shots before the sloop would heave to. The pirates were planning to commit other robberies, after which they were going to escape to Santa Domingo.

TOLONO TEACHER GIVES UP

IN JAIL SEVEN MONTHS FOR WHIPPING A PUPIL.

Gains Liberty at Last by Paying Lad's Parents $700 and His Board.

Tolono, Ill., May 5.—A severe whipping administered to a pupil has cost Sherman Cass, principal of the local schools, seven months in jail and $700.

The instructor surrendered to the parents of the boy, 12-year-old Michael Burke, and secured a compromise on the judgment awarded them.

Cass' co-defendant, Miss Annie Kelly, a teacher, is out on bail until the federal court determines if her application for bankruptcy will release her from obligation. She still insists she will go to prison rather than allow her father to pay the assessment.

The boy, who was a pupil in Miss Kelly's room, became unruly and on December 5, 1906, she decided to punish him. She called upon Mr. Cass for aid in her task. The principal held the boy while Miss Kelly wielded the stick.

The instructors, the parents of the child claim, whipped him so severely that he was permanently crippled. The Burkes then sued both for damages and were awarded a judgment of $1,800.

Miss Kelly fled to California to escape the jurisdiction of the court. Later she returned and is now teaching there.

Prof. Cass decided to face the music. He declared himself bankrupt and unable to pay the judgment. Then, under a seldom enforced debtor's law, the Burkes had him thrown into jail, they paying his board of $3.50 a week. Cass still refused to pay the damages and continued his studies while imprisoned.

He tired of his cell recently, however, and agreed to compromise, paying the Burkes $700 for his liberty and also refunding the money, amounting to $100, they had advanced for his food at the county prison.

WHERE AUBURN LOCKS ABOUND.

Found in Great Numbers in Northeastern Part of Scotland.

Red hair is found in distinct excess north of the Grampians, and especially in the northeast of Scotland. A scientist who has made the question of pigmentation a special study, and has just been helped to conclude a color survey of the school children—over 50,000—of Scotland, announced this as one of his results.

In most European countries, he said, there is a distinct predominance of one type over the others. In north Germany and Sweden it is the blonde type; in Italy the brunette. No such predominance is found in Scotland. Dark hair and fair are present in equal proportions. The dominant color among Scottish children is brown, and it has to be shown how far brown is really a blend of fair and dark.

The proportion of red hair throughout the country is a little over 5 per cent.—high compared with the continent. One cannot overlook the reference of Tacitus to the red haired Caledonians. Some curious facts brought to light suggest that red hair is not entirely or strictly a racial trait. It may have some peculiar physiological if not pathological connection.

USED HIS STORED KNOWLEDGE.

When High School Learning Came in Handy to Business Man.

"I used for the first time to-day something I learned 15 years ago, said a writer in the Milwaukee Sentinel. "It was the application of a principle in geometry in relation to the inscribing of a hexagon in a circle, which I learned when at the high school. I had an order placed for some taborers (that is flower stands) given me and the party that gave me the order wants the tops 16 inches across. Well, that was easy enough to fill, but beside that the sides were to be hexagonal, so I had to sit down and figure out how much five-eighths-inch wood would have to be leveled off to have the parts fit exactly. Here is where I used my geometry."

"Daniel Webster is quoted as saying that he once used a fact which had lain dormant for 14 years, so I have him beaten by a year."

"You often hear people say 'What is the use of learning this?' seeing no use for it at the time, but things which at the time seem most impracticable are often later of use. That is one of the complaints in our public schools, but as in my case it may some day prove of use."

"That he was a good politician and stuck to harmless issues," answered the class as one man.—Exchange.

CLEARED STATESMAN OF DEBT.

Disraeli's "Endymion" Fulfilled Expectations of Author.

In the year 1872 Lord Beaconsfield commenced his last novel, "Endymion," a work undertaken chiefly from the honorable desire to obtain a sum of money that would finally wipe off a residue of monetary engagements. He worked at it pretty steadily until the general election of 1874 called him to office, when his literary work was set aside. Still he wrote at it occasionally till the beginning of the year 1876, when the Eastern question coming to the front and engrossing his attention, he, as he thought, finally laid the work aside. He then wrote a letter to Lord Rowton, enclosing the manuscript, unpublished by anything like 100 pages of printed matter. He stated his view that the pressure of public work would preclude his continuing the novel, and in the event of his decease he instructed Lord Rowton to finish the work.

but not to volunteer the announcement that it had been left in an incomplete state or to avow his collaboration, leaving the book to stand solely in the name of its original creator, Lord Beaconsfield, however, living through his own administration and finding comparative leisure when in opposition, completed the novel with his own hand, and it was sold for the splendid sum of £10,000, a windfall which enabled him to fulfill his cherished desire of paying off his debts.

THEFT OF TURKEYS PROVED EXPENSIVE

Leonard Lannegan Paid Fine and Costs of $10 and Harry Miller Assessed $8 in Court Today.

To charges of stealing two blooded turkeys, valued at $7, from Mrs. Ella Hubbell's farm on the Patton road, about 3½ miles this side of Edgerton, Leonard Lannegan, age 22, and Harry Miller, age 23 years, entered pleas of guilty in municipal court this afternoon. Each youth appears to have taken one of the fowls which constituted his share of the booty. The latter paid a fine and costs amounting to $10 and agreed to reimburse Mrs. Hubbell for her loss. In addition thereto, Miller paid a fine and costs amounting to $8 and pleaded of drunkenness as his excuse. The theft occurred early yesterday forenoon while Mrs. Hubbell and her daughter were away from the farm. Upon their return, shortly thereafter, neighbors informed them that two young men in a buggy had captured and taken away two of the fowls and driven toward Edgerton. Mrs. Hubbell at once hitched up her horse and accompanied by her daughter, gave pursuit. They had nearly reached Edgerton when they met two youths answering the description coming back. Whereupon Mrs. Hubbell and her daughter turned about and followed. The two boys had a faster horse and upon reaching the Shoe maker farm near the county house, Mrs. Hubbell telephoned the local police. The patrol wagon was sent out that way but failed to locate the pair. Mrs. Hubbell came on to the city and spent several hours getting additional information for the police, with the result that Miller was arrested early in the afternoon and Lannegan was taken into custody by Officer Champlin this morning. Mrs. Hubbell was living raising money for the school and had offered to lose the two birds. Miller testified that Lannegan had him as he was driving through town and that the "foolishness" was the result.

RAIN STOPS WORK ON SURVEY TODAY

Proposed Janesville-Madison Interurban Company's Line Is Being Laid Out.

"Cold weather with sleet and rain drove us in today," said H. H. Ziegler, who has charge of the proposed Janesville-Madison Interurban, this noon at the Myers hotel. "I arrived last evening from Cheltenham, where I have been in conference with the gentlemen who are to construct the road, and have come here to personally handle matters. The surveying party under Mr. Ellis, our engineer, is making the most favorable survey possible, considering the weather, and the evening leave for Edgerton to make their headquarters there for several days. The survey is now near Indian Ford and will pass through to Edgerton tomorrow." Mr. Ziegler is confident that work will be begun on the construction this summer, but explains that there will be considerable delay before work actually begins owing to the requirements of the state railroad commission for maps and rights-of-way before such a franchise is issued. Despite the rain this morning the party would have kept on with their work had they not been ordered in by Mr. Ziegler and they expect to cover between four and five miles each day from now on. Mr. Ziegler will make his headquarters at the Myers Hotel for the present, although he may spend considerable time along the line.

INDIGNANT PARENTS REPLY TO SHERIFF

Have Good and Sufficient Reasons for Keeping Children Out of School and Recent Interference.

An indignant reply to the enforcement of the new law which requires the sheriff to serve peremptory notices on the parents or guardians of children whose attendance at school is reported to be irregular by the county superintendent, has aroused considerable indignation among the recipients, and some sharp replies have been received at the county jail. "It makes people feel rather strange to have letters come from the sheriff when they are doing the best they can to live up to the laws of the state, if it does keep them busy doing so," writes Mrs. Herb Lee, R. F. D. 20, Evansville. She says that her son cannot go to school because he has the mumps and thinks it would be well for the superintendent to find out whether children are absent for some good reason or are playing truant before they resort to such extreme measures. E. A. Triple, Evansville, R. F. D. 19, explains that he and his wife are indignant that he had to keep his children from school for a time to strip tobacco. He hopes that the teacher, Miss Medley, reported her own sisters and brothers as well as the other children, "for they are seldom there and lately, not for weeks." O. D. Swain, Beloit R. F. D. 26, reports that his little daughter is studying for confirmation under the Norwegian minister and has all she can do to learn her preparatory lessons. Mrs. William Pankhurst of Postville says that some error has been made—that no children attend school more regularly than John and Judd Cowan. One man explains that he took his little five year old girl to school all winter but is unable to do so now. "The law may be all right in extreme cases," said Sheriff Fisher today, "but wholesale application of it, without any investigation of the circumstances, is going to work great injustice to many people and arouse a lasting hostility to the school authorities."

STORY TRIAL IS ON IN MADISON TODAY

Bellefonte Bank Cashier Who Is in Law's Tails Fighting Hard for Liberty.

Madison, Wis., May 5.—Henry Elmer, the "cheese speculator" to whom alleged defaulter Ed. C. Story declared he gave $23,000 of the money of the Citizens' State Bank of Bellefonte, showed up today, denying that he owed the bank more than $5,000 if anything.

Elmer is of remarkable appearance, unshaven, poorly clad, in fact many tramps look cleaner and "better keeled" than he. He declared that all the money he received in his business he gave to Story and when money was needed he signed checks. Story kept all the accounts. Elmer kept no books whatever. Attorney Gilbert says it is incredible that Story extended credit of $23,000 to Elmer, and that the Elmer overdraft is probably fictitious.

RACINE MEN BOUGHT ALL THE QUARRIES

O'Laughlins Purchased the Stone Quarries in That City at Annual Meeting.

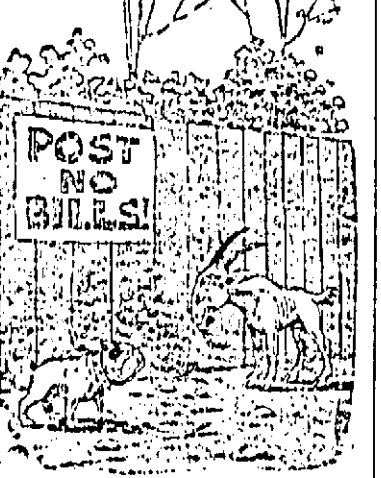

Racine, Wis., May 5.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Waukesha Lime & Stone company and the John O'Laughlin stone quarries held in this city Monday, John O'Laughlin of this city and Joseph O'Laughlin of Waukesha, his sons, bought all of the outstanding stock in the Waukesha company totaling in all of the stock holders to exceed by outsiders and all of the time and stone quarries in that city are now owned exclusively by the Racine men and his sons. The consideration of $65,000 which was represented by the transferring of the Chicago stone quarries and the Austin, Ill. real estate was bought for the stock of the outsiders in the company. The property which is now owned by the O'Laughlins comprises four large stone quarries and lime kilns, on a large two hundred and fifteen acre farm located on the extreme north end of the city limits on the Fox river.

NURSES' STRIKE ENDS WITH THE APOLOGIES

Trouble at Madison Hospital Averted—Patients Again Receive Proper Attention.

Madison, Wis., May 5.—What might have been termed a strike, was narrowly averted at the Madison general hospital this week when the nurses employed there returned to their regular duties after a conference with the superintendent and directors. It appears that the trouble was caused by the disappearance of some linen, furnished by the citizens of Madison at their regular Monday benefit shower and the alleged theft of a sum of money. Miss Mary Humphrey, formerly of Janesville, who is superintendent of the hospital, called the nurses together to talk the matter over and the nurses resented the implication that they might have had any knowledge of the theft. Both the superintendent and directors clear the young ladies of any knowledge of the matter and apologized, thus ending the matter. However, the nurses gained one point in that they will have shorter hours in the future and more help will be hired. It is also reported that Miss Humphrey will resign her position as soon as another superintendent can be secured.

NOVEL TROTTING RACE

Readville's $50,000 Handicap
Event and How It May Work.

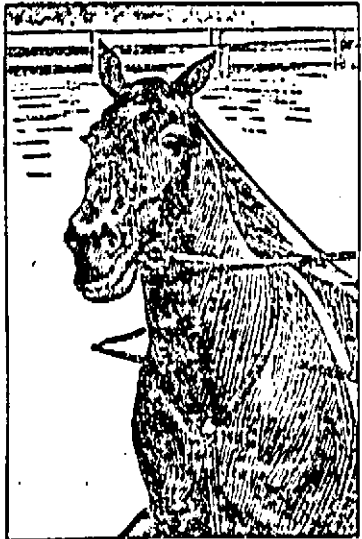

FIFTY FEET PER SECOND.

Distances Certain Horses Would Have to Travel—Handicappers May Spoil
Race—Will Mark New Era in Harness Racing.

The New England Breeders' association's $50,000 handicap dash race for trotters to be held at Readville, Mass., on Aug. 22 is exciting no end of comment and commendation, and there is much speculation on the probable outcome.

The slowest horse or horses will start on the scratch, or, in other words, will be required to trot a mile and a quarter. All other starters are placed behind the scratch horses in the order of their handicaps. An official handicapper will review the entries on Aug. 18 and determine the proper handicap for each. The handicapper will take into consideration the form of the horses as evidenced by their performance preceding the race regardless of records. For instance, if Sonoma Girl, whose record is 2:05 1/2, is constructively beaten by, say, George G., whose record is the same, the handicapper will make certain allowances for her defeat and place her at a point which is calculated to offset the advantage George G. has shown to have over her. To be more explicit, if in the judgment of the handicapper George G. is capable of beating Sonoma Girl fifty feet in a mile she will start that distance in front of him. Every second of advantage that one horse is regarded as having over another is equalized by giving the slower horse fifty feet the advantage at the start.

Figuring that one or more horses will start on the scratch (these being 2:15 horses) and that the records of the horses at starting time of the race are as at present, the following table furnishes an example of the handicaps. It is given for no other purpose, however, than to give an idea of how the handicap will work:

MAJOR DUNLAP, 1897, A PROBABLY

No. of feet back of 2:15 travellers.	Distance travellers.
Major Dunlap, 1897, 502	7:34
Sweet Marie, 1902, 500	7:30

The essential object of handicap racing is to place all horses engaged on an equally footing as possible. As many changes of form are likely to occur between the opening of the racing season and Aug. 18, when the handicaps are to be announced, the finest possible judgment must be displayed by the handicapper. It will be his duty to keep a hawk's eye upon the work and the races of all the candidates, take the carefullest note of their public and private form and in especial look out for those that are being kept under cover. His task will be no easy one.

Naturally the horses will have to finish in front of the grand stand, and in order to do this the scratch horses must be started from the three-quarter pole. As in Europe, the start will be a standing one, and if the European system is followed a series of electric bells placed opposite each horse's station will be rung to announce the start. Unlike the European trotters, our horses are not trained to start from a standstill, and this as well as the fact that they must be started on the turn may occasion a lot of trouble.

So far as one can determine without an actual test, fifty feet per second is likely to prove a fast and equitable handicap.

Can George G., Highball and Sonoma Girl give such trotters as Margaret O. and Jack Leyburn 150 feet advantage and beat them?

Again, can Margaret O., Jack Leyburn et al. give a first class 2:12 trotter 187 feet and a beating?

Sharpened Feminine Barb.
Difficult subjects require careful handling, and for this reason a room clerk at a woman's hotel must have special qualifications, says a New York letter. One of the many applicants to approach a clerk of this class was a young, prepossessing woman who, a few days ago, walked to the desk and hesitatingly asked if a room could be had at moderate price. "Would you like a room at a dollar and a half a day?" With a startled look she replied, "I want one at three dollars a week." "We have rooms at that price, but none vacant. You can see that the office is full of guests, and it is not probable that we shall have such a room as you desire until one of our guests dies—or gets married." Sweeping the office with her eyes, the young woman replied, sweetly, "Oh, then, it is hopeless!"

The Waist Came Back.
"The other day I hung my prettiest waist out on the line at the kitchen window," said the flat-dweller, "after I washed it. Then I forgot all about it, and when I went to look for it two days later it was gone. I rushed frantically down to the janitress, and we climbed together over the coal into the area to look for the waist. I lamented deeply. It was a beautiful waist. We couldn't find it. The janitor came from the next house and helped us look, but there was nothing doing. I came sadly in at the window back over the coal and ascended to my sixth-story flat."

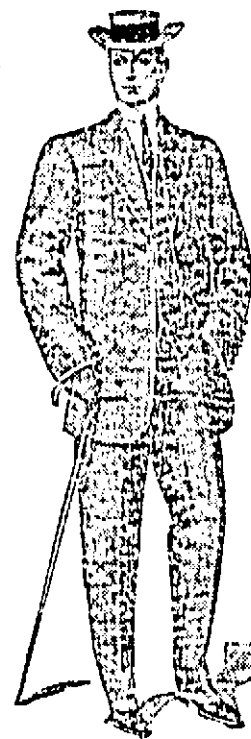

"The next day I looked in the drawer of my chiffonier and found the waist there. Say anything to the janitress? Well, I reckon not."

The Rural Guest.
"So this is a first-class hotel!" drawled Uncle Hiram Hardapple as he carefully flung his weather-stained hat on the corner of a radiator. "Yes, sir," replied the polite waiter with a low bow.

"Got any cut-out sugar?"
"There is a bowl full at your elbow, sir."
"Got a loaf pan?"
"Here is one, sir. Do you wish to mark off on the menu cards?"
"Oh, no, sunny. I just want to mark points on these blocks of sugar, so we can have a sociable game of dominoes when Mandy comes in. I calculate it will be some time before dinner is served."

Two Views.
They were already discussing their summer vacations.
"But, don't you think," said the athlete, "that everybody ought to learn to swim?"
"Of course not," said the dyspeptic. "What would you think of a fish that insisted upon burning to walk on dry land?"

DOCTORS MISTAKES

Are said often to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or over-busy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes all sorts of remedies, and in reality, they are his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The patient gets no better. The doctor prescribes more medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease. They don't understand the difference between a doctor who prescribes comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by a physician, an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a powerful invigorating tonic. "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out" run-down, debilitated, nervous, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve tonic, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying anxiety, inducing nervous excitement, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuritis, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and dependency. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take on candy.

We Spent $32,400 To Give You Each a Can of Van Camp's

Three weeks ago—in this paper and others—we offered to buy you each a can of Van Camp's. That offer, in one day, cost $32,400. Do you know any other beans good enough to stand a test like that?

Again and again we told you that Van Camp's beans are best. And we told you why.

But the beans themselves, when we gave you a can, surprised you—did they not?

Aren't these beans delicious?

Do you wonder we took so much space in this paper, in an effort to get you to try them?

Perhaps the first thing you said was, "These are not like our home-baked beans."

It is true; they are not.

But it isn't your fault. It's your lack of facilities.

We bake in live steam, while you must use dry heat.

We can bake our beans until they are meaty, yet they are nutty because they are whole.

That can't be done in a home oven.

Your top beans are crispier; the balance are only half-baked. They are mushy because they are broken.

You have learned now how much better beans are when they are nutty, meaty and whole.

Then you noted, perhaps, our delicious blend. That comes from baking the beans, the tomato sauce and the pork all together.

You noted, too, that our beans are not heavy. They don't ferment and form gas.

That's because we have made them digestible.

We bake them in ovens heated to 245 degrees. That's more than twice the heat that gets to the center of your baking dish.

That heat is essential. It separates the particles so the digestive juices can get to them.

Beans, to be digestible, must be factory cooked.

Please remember these differences.

Don't go back to home baking. Think of the fuel it takes, the time and the bother.

We have shown you how we bake beans, after 47 years of experience.

We have brought them to you, fresh and savory, just as they came from our ovens.

Each can in your pantry, when heated, means a delicious meal, ready cooked.

For all of the future, let us cook for you.

Van Camp's BAKED WITH TOMATO SAUCE PORK AND BEANS

If you think that other beans are as good as Van Camp's, please serve them with ours and see. Let your people decide. Then get the brand which they like best. We are willing to leave it to them.

There's a very wide difference between other brands and Van Camp's. And it isn't due alone to our process.

We pay $2.10 per bushel to get the right beans, though beans are sold as low as 30 cents.

But ours are Michigan beans—from a soil rich in nitrogen.

Ours are picked out by hand from the choicest part of the crop. We get only the whitest, the plumpest, the fullest-grown.

All beans of one size—you saw that.

We spend five times as much to make our tomato sauce as other sauce costs ready-made.

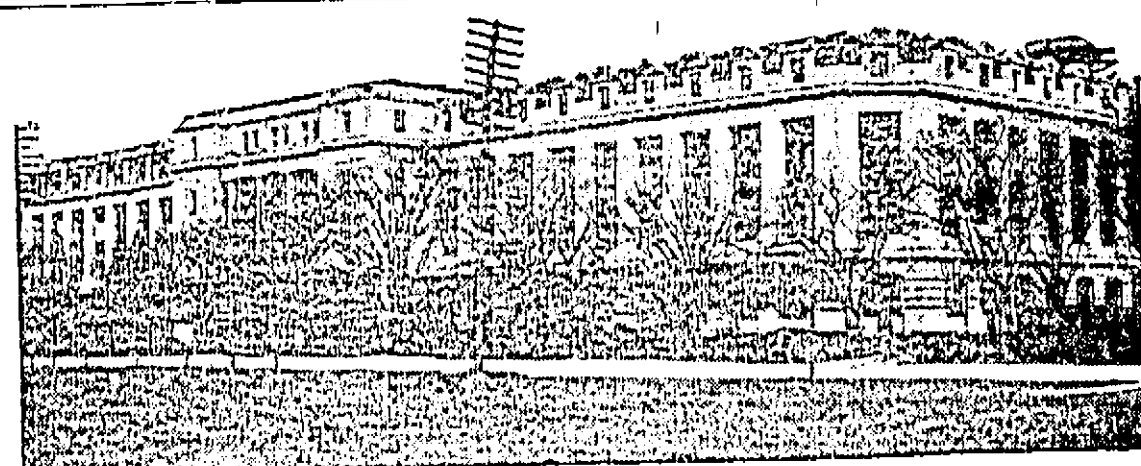

But much sauce is made from tomatoes picked green and ripened in shipment. Much is made of scraps from a canning factory.

Such sauce is not rich, not savory.

Cans are made from whole, ripe tomatoes, ripened on the vines. They are picked when the juice fairly sparkles.

Three Sizes: 10, 15 and 20 cents per can

SEVEN LAST PLAGUES FAST APPROACHING

L. Schmidt, the Evangelist, Gives Another Remarkable Sermon at Salvation Army Hall.

L. Schmidt, the evangelist, spoke on the above topic at the Salvation Army hall on Milwaukee street last night. He used as a scripture lesson Revelation 10th Chap. Among other things the missionary said: "The seven last plagues are about to begin to fall on this world; and the river Euphrates is drying up to prepare for the last great battle which is to be fought in the east as we read in Rev. 16:12-16, Jer. 25:30-31, Eze. 13:5, Joel 2:14-17, and Zech. 14:1-2. The drying up of the Euphrates means the wasting away and the destruction of the kingdom of Turkey, through which the Euphrates flows. The final battle of Armageddon will be fought on and near Mount Megiddo—Isa. 8:7. When probation closes Jesus will lay aside his priestly garments in heaven, where he now makes intercession for sinners—Heb. 8:1-13, Jer. 8:20. The seven last plagues will fall in one year's time. We can read this in Rev. 18:8; and destruction will come from every side, for when the salvation of man has stopped every force will be let loose all over the world. There will be no protection for anyone except for the saved, the people of God—Isa. 41:10-16, 43:1-3, 44:1-5, 45:1-7, 46:1-17. The last great war is to be fought just before the plagues fall; just before the second coming of the Lord. When the righteous are taken to heaven, or new Jerusalem for 1,000 years, this will then leave this world desolate, without an inhabitant till the end of the 1,000 years—Zech. 14:20; Isa. 24:24; Jer. 4:20, 25:28. Satan is then bound inactively during the 1,000 years, being confined to this earth in its desolate condition, with none to tempt or annoy, as we read in Rev. 20:1-3; Jer. 1:23, 25. After the 1,000 years are up, all the wicked are raised to life; then all the human race meet for the first time, and the last time; the wicked will then be burned up, and the righteous will live—Luke 13:28; Isa. 65:20, 66:21. After the seven last plagues are over, and the last war of Armageddon is over, and the 1,000 years of rest with Christ in New Jerusalem, and the destruction of the wicked by fire, then the new earth will even be the home of the saved—Isa. 65:17-25; Jer. 31:31-34. All will ever praise God in paradise restored—Eph. 2:5-7. This evening Mr. Schmidt will speak on "How Do We Know the Plague Minutemen?" He will read for a Bible lesson Isa. 56:10-11 and II Peter 2:1-3 and John 10:10-11. He will be in the city until Thursday, then go to Madison.

MILTON TEAM BEAT EVANSVILLE HIGHS

Are Victorious over Nine From Evansville High School by Score of Two to One.

Milton, May 5.—The Milton and Evansville high school baseball teams played a close and exciting game here Thursday, the locals winning by a score of two to one. Both teams are working hard to win the interscholastic championship, and the importance of the game caused the new players to exhibit symptoms of "stage fright" early in the contest. Evansville was strong at the bat and succeeded in scoring one tally in the first inning on an error, a stolen base and one hit. This ended their run getting, although they succeeded in getting men around to third base several times. Milton's two runs were made in the sixth inning, one being earned. Rockford Evansville star pitcher, who struck out 16 batters in a game last week ago, succeeded in striking out only seven of the locals. Milton, who pitched a remarkable game, striking out nine and pitching himself out of three difficult situations. Milton's base running was below par, but headwork at critical moments saved the game. Batteries Miller and Whitford, Rockford and Gilles.

Milton's 3, Evansville 6. Errors Milton 5, Evansville 2. Umpire W. C. Whitford.

Evansville players are much older and heavier than the locals and ought to win from Milton, nine times out of ten.

The bank of Milton has just added to its equipment a Victor Magnuson-est globe time lock safe that will protect the property of its patrons more securely than its predecessor.

A call to L. C. Whitford of Edgerton to allow his name to run in the coming primary has been largely signed here. Mr. Whitford would make an excellent legislator and should be nominated.

SUIT ENDED AFTER QUARTER OF CENTURY

Judge Grimm Decided for Defendants in Case of D. G. Smith vs. Catherine Carter et al.

Judge Grimm yesterday found for the defendants in the case of D. G. Smith vs. Catherine Carter, Harry Carter, and Ida Lane, an action which was started twenty-two years ago. Over a quarter of a century ago the plaintiff, who now resides in California, secured the so-called Carter farm of 160 acres adjoining the fair grounds on the east. The late Gay Carter secured claims and mortgages against this property aggregating over $20,000. Mr. Carter died in November, 1881, and the real estate, mortgages, and claims were left to his children. In August, 1882, D. G. Smith commenced before the late Judge Conger an action to redeem. The late Judge John R. Bennett and the late J. C. Sloan were the attorneys in the case. Defendants Wilson Lane, William Carter, and Charles E. Pierce, for the defendants, and Atty. W. G. Wheeler and William Smith, for the plaintiff, made the final arguments. Judge Grimm based his decision largely on the plaintiff's unreasonable delay in pressing the matter to a conclusion.

COST CANDIDATES OVER $352 TO RUN

City Attorney H. L. Maxfield Had the Largest Expense Account—Ralph Adair a Close Second.

With the exception of Charles Mauch, who was an aspirant for aldermanic honors in the Third ward, all of the candidates at the recent primary and election have filed their expense accounts with City Clerk Dabbs, as required by law. The other outlays were as follows: School Commissioner at Large Arthur W. Fisher, $3 contributed to the republican campaign fund; Justice of the Peace Stanley D. Tallman, $5; H. H. Hanchard, $5; Justice Charles H. Lange, $3; Alderman William H. Carr, $3.15; W. H. Merrill, $10.50; Supervisor George Woodcock, $1; Constable George Palmer, $1; Alderman Geo. O. LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

Hard Run on False Alarm: A long, hard, and dangerous run with the stentor to the corner of Eastern avenue and Armour street was made by the department last evening to gratify the whim of some misguided humorist who ought to be behind the bars. The fact that the district is without waterworks protection made it necessary to take the stentor along. There was no sign of a blaze and not a soul was in sight when the department reached the scene.

Baseball Star Here Last Night: George Peering, a former resident of Rock County and at present a member of the Cleveland baseball team, greeted old friends in Janesville last evening. He played short-stop for Cleveland in the game against Chicago yesterday, but made three costly errors which were partially responsible for his team's losing the contest.

CLEW TO KAPSHAW MURDER.

Blood-Spotted Club Found in Woman's Room at Ooltite.

Bedford, Ind., May 5.—What is thought to be a clue to the murder of Joseph Kaphaw, whose body was fished from a quarry hole at Ooltite on Saturday, was found Monday when a room occupied by Mrs. Lucinda Decoursey at Ooltite was searched. A hickory club covered with blood spots was found between the plastering and the wall near the chimney flue hole. The club looked as if it had been used as a pick or hammer handle.

On the body of Kaphaw was found a watch which had the name of Mrs. Decoursey engraved on the back and a small picture of this woman was found on the inside of the back of the watch. The watch was identified as Mrs. Decoursey's and had been given the dead man by her some time ago. Charles Decoursey, the husband of the woman, was granted a divorce at last term of the Lawrence court. He charged Kaphaw with wrecking his home. After the divorce Kaphaw and Mrs. Decoursey lived together.

Mr. Owen has been a sufferer from heart trouble for the past sixteen years and was taken with a severe attack last Thursday, but was much better the next day and seemed to be gaining rapidly until a very short time before the final summons came. He was born in Orange county, New York, and came to Wisconsin over forty years ago, and was one of Evansville's business men in an early day. He was a photographer and many of the older residents have photographs which were taken in his studio. Soon after coming here he was united in marriage to Miss Hattie Blake.
